IT IS IMPORTANT THAT THE SOCIETY BE INFORMED PROMPTLY OF ANY CHANGE OF A MEMBER'S ADDRESS.

Introduction

THE OSGOODE SOCIETY WAS INCORPORATED IN MAY OF 1979. IN 1993 IT BECAME THE OSGOODE SOCIETY FOR CANADIAN LEGAL HISTORY. FOUNDED AT THE INITIATIVE OF R. ROY MCMURTRY, A FORMER ATTORNEY GENERAL AND CHIEF JUSTICE OF ONTARIO, AND OFFICIALS OF THE LAW SOCIETY OF UPPER CANADA, ITS PURPOSE IS TO STUDY AND PROMOTE PUBLIC INTEREST IN THE HISTORY OF THE LAW, THE LEGAL PROFESSION AND THE JUDICIARY IN ONTARIO AND ELSEWHERE IN CANADA AND TO STIMULATE RESEARCH AND PUBLICATION ON THESE SUBJECTS.

AMONG THE SOCIETY'S ACTIVITIES ARE ITS PUBLICATIONS PROGRAMME, AN ORAL HISTORY PROGRAMME, AND A RESEARCH SUPPORT PROGRAMME TO ASSIST SCHOLARS DOING RESEARCH IN CANADIAN LEGAL HISTORY. THE SOCIETY'S INTENTION IS THAT ITS ANNUAL PUBLICATION WILL BE FUNDED BY MEMBERSHIP FEES. THE CONTINUATION OF RELATED EFFORTS WILL DEPEND PRIMARILY ON SUPPORT FROM THE LAW FOUNDATION OF ONTARIO AND FROM PATRONS, BENEFACTORS AND SUSTAINING MEMBERS.

Editor's Report

We have had another very good year. The publication programme produced another four first class books (discussed below), and there are plenty of titles at various stages for the future. They include a history of the Ontario Court of Appeal, the memoirs of Roy McMurtry, a biography of the Hon. G. Arthur Martin, as well as works on early women lawyers, Upper and Lower Canada, and a prominent Toronto law firm. While many of our books are brought to us by the authors, we continue to be proactive in encouraging and supporting work as a way to fulfil our mandate of advancing knowledge of Canadian legal history. I have been fortunate to be joined by a new Associate Editor, Professor Philip Girard of the Schulich School of Law, Dalhousie University, who is doing invaluable work for the Society.

The oral history programme, our other principal activity, continues apace as well. We have now interviewed over 558 people, and are always receptive to members' suggestions about who we should include. In recent years we have embarked on two initiatives to broaden the programme, one on African-Canadians in the legal profession, concentrating on the generation now finding its way onto the bench and into partnerships in major firms, an the other we call 'Main Street not Bay Street,' in which we interview lawyers in communities outside downtown Toronto. Both programmes are well established and have yielded some fascinating insights.

We continue to work on a new, improved and much expanded website. The site itself is built, and we are now adding content. After some delays, I expect the new site to go live in the early summer. Check us out at www.osgoodesociety.ca.

I look forward to another successful year, working with our President, Roy McMurtry, Associate Editor Philip Girard, the dedicated Board of Directors, and the ever present and ever resourceful Marilyn MacFarlane.

The Publishing Programme

In 2011 The Society published four books.

ANNUAL BOOK

The Lazier Murder: Prince Edward County, 1884, by Robert J. Sharpe, Justice of the Court of Appeal for Ontario.

Our members book for 2011 is a detailed analysis of a late nineteenth century murder case in Picton, Ontario. Robert Sharpe's latest offering for the Osgoode Society details the murder of a local resident and the subsequent court proceedings. The author provides a fascinating insight into the operation of the criminal justice system at that time, including the pardon process. The trial may well have been a case of what we would now call a 'wrongful conviction', linking the past to a current and compelling aspect of our criminal justice process.

OPTIONAL EXTRAS

We offered members three optional extras.

1. Lawyers and Legal Culture in British North America: Beamish Murdoch of Halifax, by Philip Girard, Professor, Schulich School of Law, Dalhousie University.

Well known to Osgoode Society readers as the author of Bora Laskin, Philip Girard has written an account of an everyday lawyers' practice in the first half of the nineteenth century. It is also an exploration of Canadian legal culture and of the links between law and politics, especially arguments over responsible government.

2. Dewigged, Bothered and Bewildered: British Colonial Judges on Trial, by John McLaren, Emeritus Professor of Law, University of Victoria.

Professor McLaren has produced a series of case studies of nineteenth century judges from across the British empire, including of course the Canadian colonies, who found themselves the centre of political controversy and were either suspended or removed from office. Anchored by excellent introductory surveys of the process of judicial appointment and the developing rules on judicial independence, the book is the first of its kind on the organisation and operation of colonial judicial systems. We are very pleased to publish this volume with the Francis Forbes Society, our Australian equivalent.

3. Westward Bound: Sex, Violence, the Law, and the Making of a Settler Society, by Lesley Erickson, Professor, Department of History, University of Calgary.

In partnership with the University of British Columbia Press, we published the first book of a young scholar which examines the operation of the criminal law in the prairie west in the late nineteenth and first half of the twentieth centuries. Local court records and other sources are employed to see how the law worked on reserves, in the cities, and in the countryside, from high profile cases to day-to-day policing and punishment practices.

IF YOU WISH TO RECEIVE any of the above books, please contact our offices. Once again, the Society is offering a package deal of $120.00 to members who order all three books.

Book Reception

A reception was held at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on October 26th, 2011 to launch the Society's 2011 books.

2012 Publications

ANNUAL BOOK

Arming and Disarming: A History of Gun Control in Canada, by R. Blake Brown, Professor of History, St Mary's University. Published by the University of Toronto Press.

Although we may think of it as only a contemporary concern, at many times in our history Canadian governments have evinced concern about gun ownership and use. In the first comprehensive history of the subject, Blake Brown looks at gun use and regulation from the early periods of European settlement to the controversy over the gun registry. He shows that rural and urban Canadians have always had very different views about firearms. He also demonstrates that our governments attitudes towards guns have been complex. At different times governments sought to restrict certain types of guns, or to restrict gun ownership among certain people and in certain locales. On other occasions governments encouraged gun ownership, seeing it as a manly pursuit useful for training citizens to be well versed in the practice of using firearms.

ALL MEMBERS RECEIVE THIS BOOK AT NO EXTRA CHARGE.

OPTIONAL EXTRAS

We offer members three optional extras.

1. Canadian Property Law Cases in Context, edited by Eric Tucker, Professor, Osgoode Hall Law School, and Bruce Ziff and James Muir, Professors, University of Alberta Law School. Published by Irwin Law.

This is another volume examining important Canadian cases by exploring their social, political and economic background, similar to Work on Trial (2010) and Race, Rights and Law in the Supreme Court of Canada (1997). The volume takes us from the Newfoundland seal hunt in the nineteenth century to Quebec nuisance law, and to more recent controversies involving restrictive covenants (Galbraith v Madawaska Club), pollution (KVP), picketing (the Toronto Eaton Centre cases), economic regulation (Manitoba Fisheries), the theft of information (R. v. Stewart), and land use regulation (CPR v. Vancouver).

2. Hunger, Horses and Government Men: Criminal Law on the Aboriginal Plains, 1870-1905, by Professor Shelley Gavigan, Osgoode Hall Law School. Published by the University of British Columbia Press.

Professor Gavigan examines the introduction of Canadian criminal law and criminal justice institutions in the old North West (present day Saskatchewan and Alberta) after its acquisition by Canada in 1870. Using newspapers, penitentiary records, Indian department files, and, principally, the records of stipendiary magistrates, she shows the law's impact on the aboriginal peoples of the west, as well as their use of it in coming to terms with the new political reality.

3. The African-Canadian Legal Odyssey: Selected Essays, edited by Professor Barrington Walker, Department of History, Queens University. Published by the University of Toronto Press.

This collection of original and republished essays surveys the historical experience of black Canadians and the law. It includes accounts of black legal pioneers, Canadian slave law, case studies of 'private' discrimination, and criminal law cases. The volume includes an extensive introduction by the editor which summarises our knowledge of the black experience and suggests avenues for future research.

IF YOU WISH TO RECEIVE any of the optional extras, please indicate so on the attached form, and when it has been published it will be mailed to you and you will be billed.

Patrons and Benefactors of the Society

We are most grateful to our Patrons and Benefactors whose generous support made many of our efforts possible.

Patrons:

Blake, Cassels & Graydon LLP Gowlings LLP The Law Foundation of Ontario Lax O'Sullivan Scott Lisus LLP McCarthy Tétrault LLP Osler, Hoskin & Harcourt LLP Paliare Roland Rosenberg Rotherstein LLP Torkin Manes LLP Torys LLP WeirFoulds LLP

A "Patrons Page" is included in each of our publications. Additional Patrons and Benefactors are most welcome. Patrons contribute between $2,500.00 and $5,000.00; Benefactors $1,000.00 to $2,499.00. We also have a category "Corporate Sustaining" which is $500.00. For information about charitable receipts, please contact our office.

The sixteenth Annual Patrons' Dinner was held on May 17, 2011 at Osgoode Hall in the Benchers' Dining Room. The dinner was hosted by Laurie Pawlitza, Treasurer of the Law Society of Upper Canada, and chaired by R. Roy McMurtry, President of the Society. The purpose of the dinner is to honour Society Patrons whose generosity makes possible the continuation of much of the Society's work, including the publication of optional extras. The Osgoode Society thanks the Law Society of Upper Canada for hosting and sponsoring the Patrons' Dinner.

The Stuart Thom Fund

In 1998, following receipt of two generous gifts from the estates of Stuart Thom and his wife, Lian, the Osgoode Society established the Stuart Thom Fund. In 1999 and 2000 further grants from the Thom estates totalling $50,000.00, brought the total contribution to $100,000.00. This generosity, unequalled among our personal donors, will go a considerable distance to help ensure that the Osgoode Society is able to carry on its work for many years to come. Details about the current state of the Fund are presented in our Financial Statements.

The Society hopes that other possible benefactors may see fit to follow this example and to remember the Society in their estate planning. All donations and bequests will receive charitable receipts for income tax purposes.

Awards

The Society offers or administers a number of awards, three of which are new.

R. Roy McMurtry Fellowship. In 2011 we awarded the fourth R. Roy McMurtry Fellowship in Canadian Legal History. This fellowship was created on the occasion of the retirement as Chief Justice of Ontario of the Hon. R. Roy McMurtry. It honours the contribution to Canadian legal history of the founder of the Osgoode Society for Canadian Legal History and its current President. The fellowship was established by Chief Justice McMurtry's friends and colleagues, and endowed by private donations and the Law Foundation of Ontario. The fellowship is to support graduate (preferably doctoral) students or those with a recently completed doctorate, to conduct research in Canadian legal history, for one year. The 2011 winner was Daniel Rueck, a research associate at the University of Western Ontario, for his postdoctoral work on land use and allocation on Mohawk reserves.

The Osgoode Society congratulates the winner, chosen from a very strong field of applicants, and is delighted that the fellowship has been awarded to such a worthy researcher.

Peter Oliver Prize. The Peter Oliver Prize in Canadian Legal History is named for the Society's founding editor-in-chief, and awarded annually for published work in Canadian legal history written by a student. Students in any discipline and at any stage of their careers are eligible. The winner for 2011 was Jonathon Penney, 'Ivan Rand's Ancient Constitutionalism,' University of New Brunswick Law Journal, Vol. 61, 2010.

John T. Saywell Prize for Canadian Constitutional Legal History. This prize, established through the generosity of Professor Saywell's son John MacIntosh and in recognition of Professor Saywell's life-long commitment to the highest standards of scholarship in Canadian history and law, is given biannually to the best new book in Canadian legal history, broadly defined, that makes an important contribution to an understanding of the constitution and/or federalism.

The second winner of the Saywell Prize, for 2011, was Douglas Harris, Professor of Law at the University of British Columbia, for Landing Native Fisheries: Indian Reserves and Fishing Rights in British Columbia, 1849-1865, published by the University of British Columbia Press. The Saywell Prize will be awarded again in June 2013.

Student Book Award

The Society in co-operation with Canadian law schools offers an annual book award to a graduating student deemed to have done excellent work in legal history. The Society provides one book from its back list and a current membership, including the annual publication, to such a student in each participating Canadian Law School.

Graduate Student Assistance Programme

The Society continues its Graduate Student Assistance programme intended to offer some financial assistance to graduate students doing research in Canadian legal history to travel to outof-town archives. Applications are invited.

Oral History

The Society's Oral History Programme is a unique and invaluable source of information on all aspects of our legal past. The interviews have been used extensively in scholarly research and the programme has gained a wide reputation across Canada and beyond for the quality and scope of its work. Several of our programmes are privately funded, for example by law firms, judges' associations etc., and we are pleased to discuss possible sponsorship with interested parties.

We have been privileged over the past several years to have co-sponsored oral history programmes with several bodies and organizations. We thank the following: The Advocates' Society and The Ontario Conference of Judges.

From the programme's inception, most of the interviews have been carried out by Christine Kates. For the past few years we have also been fortunate to be able to employ the skills of Cynthia Smith. We are now using a third interviewer, Rosemary Legris. The assistance of volunteer interviewers remains important. If you wish to act as a volunteer interviewer, please contact the Society.

The number of legal professionals interviewed through the programme since 1979 now totals 558, with approximately 88,770 pages of transcript. For a complete listing of all interviews conducted for the Osgoode Society oral history programme, please contact Marilyn MacFarlane at mmacfarl@lsuc.on.ca.

Terms of Access to the Osgoode Society Collection All tapes are transcribed and tapes and transcripts are placed in the Archives of Ontario for safekeeping. Each interviewee may close all or part of the material for a period of years and may also make the material available as he or she sees fit. The Osgoode Society retains copyright to the material. No portion of the material may be photocopied without written permission from the Osgoode Society. The material contained in the Osgoode Society Collection is intended for legal, historical, genealogical or other worthwhile research. It must be used at the Archives of Ontario. For information as to use please contact either the Osgoode Society or the Archives of Ontario at 416-327-1550.

To the Members of The Osgoode Society for Canadian Legal History:

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of The Osgoode Society for Canadian Legal History, which comprise the balance sheet as at December 31, 2011 and the statement of revenue and expenditures, statement of changes in net assets and cash flow statement for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

As with many charitable organizations, the Society derives revenue from donations, the completeness of which is not susceptible to satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of donations was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of the Society and we were not able to determine whether any adjustments might be necessary to donations, excess of revenues over expenditures for the year, assets and net assets.

Qualified Opinion

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraph, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of The Osgoode Society for Canadian Legal History as at December 31, 2011, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. OBJECTIVES OF THE ORGANIZATION

The Osgoode Society for Canadian Legal History (the "Society") was formed to study and promote public interest in the history of the law, the legal profession and the judiciary in Ontario and elsewhere in Canada and to stimulate research and publication on these subjects.

The Society meets these objectives by publishing books on Canadian legal history, sponsoring the collection of oral histories from individuals within the legal community, providing research and publication grants, and sponsoring and hosting legal history seminars.

The Society is incorporated, without share capital, under Letters Patent. The Society has been granted tax exempt status as a charitable organization under the Income Tax Act of Canada (the "Act"). In order to maintain the exempt status under the Act, the Society must meet certain requirements within the Act. In the opinion of management, these requirements have been met.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Investments

Investments consist of Guaranteed Investment Cartificates, which are designated as held for trading. It is the Society's policy that investments are redeemed as cash flow dictates. Investments are recorded at their fair value, which is approximated by accruing related investment income.

(b) Capital assets

Capital assets are recorded at cost. Amortization is provided annually at rates calculated to write off the assets over their estimated useful lives as follows:

> Office equipment Computer equipment

20% declining balance 45% declining balance

(c) Publication inventory

Inventory, which consists of books available for sale, is carried at the lower of cost and net realizable value, as measured using the specific identification method.

(d) Financial instruments

The Society's financial instruments comprise cash, investments, receivables, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and deferred contributions.

Cash, receivables, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and deferred contributions are reported at their fair values on the balance sheet date, which are the same as the carrying values.

THE OSGOODE SOCIETY FOR CANADIAN LEGAL HISTORY

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, continued

(e) Revenue recognition

The Society follows the deferral method of accounting for revenue. Revenue is recognized when it is received or receivable, if the amount can be reasonably estimated and if collection is reasonably assured. Deferred revenue represents the portion of grants not yet expended as required.

Restricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred. Deferred contributions represent the balance of restricted contributions not yet spent.

Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Membership fees are recognized as revenue when application for membership is received.

Grants are recognized as revenue in the period to which they relate, or when costs for which the lunds were granted are incurred.

Book sales are recognized as revenue when the books are shipped to customers.

Fundraising is recognized as revenue in the period to which it relates.

Donations are recognized as revenue when received. For donations with specific restrictions on use, revenue is recognized when the related expenses are incurred.

Investment income is recognized as revenue in period in which it is earned. Investment income earned on deferred contributions is deferred and recognized as expenses are incurred, unless otherwise permitted under the terms of the restriction.

(f) Contributed goods and services

Volunteers contribute numerous hours each year to assist the Society in carrying out its activities. The fair value of the contributed services cannot be reasonably estimated and is not recognized in the financial statements.

The Law Society of Upper Canada provides office services to the Society, including rent, telephone and computer assistance, the fair market value of which is not readily available. As such, no amount is recognized in the financial statements.

(g) Use of estimates

These financial statements are the representation of management and have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, the disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenue and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

No significant changes to the accounting policies or financial statement disclosure is expected on this change in the basis of accounting.

INVESTMENTS 3. .

The fair value of investments at year end, including the investments held for the Stuart Thom Fund (Note 4), Stuart Thom Special Projects Fund (Note 4), and Oliver Fund (Note 5), was $247.627 (2010 - $243.998).

STUART THOM FUND

The Stuart Thom Fund was established in 1998 from funds donated by the Thom family and from a portion of net assets restricted by the Board of Directors. $100,000 was contributed to the Society with the stipulation that the donations be maintained for a period of not less than 10 years, at which time the funds would be generally available for use. The full amount of theses contributions are now available for use. For ease and efficiency of managing the investments, these funds have been commingled with the Society's investments. The assets of the Thom Fund are included in Investments - other (unrestricted).

The Society is entitled to use the investment income from The Stuart Thom Fund for its operations. At its discretion, the Board of Directors may allocate investment income and any other amounts, to the Fund. For fiscal 2011, no investment income (2010 - $nil) was allocated to the Stuart Thom Fund.

The Stuart Thom Special Projects Fund was established by the Board of Directors in 2009 and represents an allocation of the net assets previously restricted by the Board as part of the Stuart Thom Fund. This fund is to be used for projects that significantly advance the mission of the Society, to a maximum of $30,000 per annum. For ease and efficiency of managing the investments, these funds have been commingled with the Society's investments.

The Society is entitled to use the investment income from The Stuart Thom Special Projects Fund for its operations. At its discretion, the Board of Directors may allocate investment income and any other amounts to the Fund. For fiscal 2011 no investment income (2010 -$Nil) was allocated to the Stuart Thom Special Projects Fund.

13. CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

The Society's objectives in managing capital are to safeguard its assets and provide as good a return on investment as possible, with a minimum of risk. The Society's managed capital includes:

14. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Society's financial instruments comprise short term deposits. The main purpose of these financial instruments is to provide financing for the organization's activities. The Society has various other financial assets and liabilities such as trade receivables and trade payables, which arise directly from operations. It is the Society's policy that investments are redeemed or traded as cash flow dictates. The main risks arising from the Society's financial instruments are interest rate risk and credit risk.

(a) Interest Rate Risk Exposure

The Society's exposure to the risk of changes in market interest rates relates to the Society's cash and investment balances. The Society manages its risk by investing in fixed rate investment instruments.

(b) Credit Risk Exposure

The credit risk on the financial assets of the Society equates to the carrying amount. The Society carries receivables from members of the organization and recognized third parties. Receivable balances are monitored on a regular basis to minimize the exposure to bad debt. Credit risk associated with cash and investments is limited to the risk of default by the counter party, with a maximum exposure equal to the carrying amount of these assets.
